

Part of the

Redesign for Whole Families

1st Annual Research, Policy & Practice Series & Summit

www.redesignforwholefamilies.com

Personnel is policy:

Driving improvement through human-resource management research

Prof. Sojourner will present a case study of a public organization, the Minneapolis Public Schools, that has improved its effectiveness through a research partnership centered on their human-resource management policies. The organization recruits better applicants, does a better job selecting hires among its applicants, and is gaining insights to improve the matching of talent to opportunities within the organization.

New date!

April 13, 2018

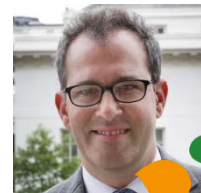

11.30am – 1.00pm |

Carlson School of Management, Room 1-147

Register at: <https://z.umn.edu/lunchseries>

Light lunch included. Limited seats, please RSVP.

Aaron Sojourner, PhD, is a labor economist and associate professor at the University of Minnesota's Carlson School of Management. His research focuses on three areas: (1) effects of labor-market institutions on economic productivity and in politics, (2) policies to promote efficient and equitable development of human capital with a focus on early childhood and K-12 education systems, and (3) behavioral economic approaches to consumer financial decisions.

Last event in this Lunch Series:

- April 20: Asst Prof Jeff Waid, School of Social Work

Brought to you by:

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
Driven to Discover®

FUTURE
SERVICES INSTITUTE

BOLSTERING INNOVATION & EFFECTIVE IMPLEMENTATION IN HUMAN SERVICES

HUMPHREY SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AFFAIRS
UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

THE KRESGE
FOUNDATION